Twenty Fifth Sunday

Isaiah 55: 6-9 | Psalm 144

Philippians 1:20-24, 27 | Matthew 20:1-16

This Sunday's Gospel is the parable of the hired workers. The owner of the vineyard went out of his way (five times) to hire workers for his vineyard. The lesson in this parable is not about justice, but is about the owner's generosity and kindness towards those hired last. This parable shows God's boundless love, mercy and forgiveness for those considered by society as unworthy and undeserving.

The eleventh-hour people were not layabouts who were trying to avoid work but genuinely wanted to work. In those days the marketplace was where the men went early in the morning and waited for an employer to come along. If a man was a tradesman, he brought his box of tools along with him. But it was mostly casual labourers, those without any particular skill, who congregated there. In the parable then, we are dealing with what was considered the lowest class of worker.

If an employer needed some workers, he would go to the marketplace, look at what was on offer, and cream off the most promising. Therefore, by the eleventh hour, what was left?

Now here is the point of the parable, the landowner's willingness to hire the lowest class of worker, and his desire to pay them a full day's wage.

So, who is Jesus talking about in the parable? The eleventh-hour people were the Gentiles; those who had been working all day long were the Jews, the vineyard was the Kingdom of God. So what Jesus was saying was this: God was offering the Kingdom to Gentiles on equal terms with the Jews. God is a loving and merciful God for all peoples, for all ages, His love is for everybody. Jesus is telling us that God does not work on a merit system. He is our heavenly Father, we are His children, surely a father is allowed to be generous, it goes with the name?

It is not the length of the service we have given that matters but the amount of love we show. Let us pray that we may learn the lesson of this parable, that God is generous and that it is a privilege to work for Him.

Bishop Fulton Sheen said, "How God will judge my life I know not, but I trust he will see me with mercy and compassion. I am only certain there will be three surprises in Heaven. First of all, I will see some people whom I never expected to see. Second, there will be a number whom I expect who will not be there. And – even relying on God's mercy – the biggest surprise of all may be that I will be there."

Please remember in your prayers Rosie Lopez and Paul Harris who will be received into the Catholic Church at the 10.00am Mass, Sunday 20th September, where they will be confirmed and receive their first Holy Communion. May God bless them and walk with them now and forever. Richard Thomson

Update on Covid-19 Restrictions

As reported in the last newsletter, the new 'Rule of Six' introduced this week does not affect 'places of worship'. Thus, as currently, we are able to host numbers larger than six for 'communal worship'.

Celebrations such as weddings, (including their receptions), funerals and other sacramental celebrations will continue to be allowed but are subject to a limit of 30 persons.

Catechetical activities such as sacramental preparation sessions are not affected by the 'Rule of Six' as these are formal Religious Education and Formation sessions.

Choirs and music groups are also not restricted by the 'Rule of Six' as they come under realms of Performing Arts Guidance. This recognises choirs and music groups during liturgies and their rehearsal periods as a performing art.

New Website for St Margaret's Unveiled

Lisa Nwankwo has been working on a brand-new website for the parish. Last week she made it available to members of the PPC for review. Everyone was delighted by the look, feel and professionalism of the new website.

There is still more development required before the old website can be 'pensioned off'. We can look forward to the launch of the new website in a few weeks' time.

Sound and Vision in our Church

Having recently improved the sound quality of our church, Fr Anthony has just announced a further project to invest in vision equipment. This will be based on a new permanently mounted projector and automated screen that will be used for Folk Masses and much more. Below is an impression of how this will look:-

This new the projector system is sponsored by Lynn Pougher in memory of John Pougher (RIP). John was an excellent guitarist and a dedicated member of our Folk Group.

Shirley Orbell Leaves the Parish

On September 18th Shirley leaves Carshalton and moves to Cheam where she will join St Christopher's parish. Amongst Shirley's many good works, she will be remembered for compiling the quarterly rota of parish duties over many years. As you can imagine this was a really challenging task!

We wish Shirley every happiness in her new home and parish.

Joan Carlton (RIP). Theresa Fox has been told that Joan Carlton died last week. She will be remembered by many in the parish. She was a long-standing parishioner with her husband Byron (RIP) and family, until they retired to live in Sussex. She was the lead in the group making the banners of the 'Holy Spirit' and the 'Our Father' for the Millennium, in 2000. These are displayed on the wall of the sanctuary.
